

Photograph by Owen Murray

Effective communication and information sharing are vital components to the academic and heritage sector around the world. We offer a wide range of specialized media solutions to help better visualize and publicize scientific, cultural and development projects, programs and organizations.

Increase access to information, inspire communication and reduce the costs of knowledge sharing!

CommonSites offers three integrated solutions to the academic and cultural heritage communities:

We bring extensive knowledge of media production, solid design and the use of social media.

We offer a variety of media solutions, optimizing communication and dissemination:

- Graphic- and webdesign
- Webdevelopment
- Documentary, film, and animation production, and much more!

See how we can improve your outreach: www.CommonSites.net/solutions/dissemination

The Really Simple Reporting (RSR) project platform helps you share progress and gain support. This easy to use system increases the visibility of cultural heritage projects and helps share knowledge and progress online.

Find out more about RSR: www.CommonSites.net/solutions/rsr

Through our close links with academic and heritage institutions and consortia, CommonSites brings both expertise and experience in archaeological, cultural heritage management and media research together to provide original research on a global level.

Visit our current research agenda: www.CommonSites.net/solutions/research

A current selection of our happy partners.

Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs | Cultural Heritage Agency of the Netherlands | Nexus Heritage | EU JPI Heritage Values | EU Culture 2007 NEARCH | INRAP | UCL | Leiden University | IHG

For more information on CommonSites and to see how we can help you increase the value and social impact of your cultural, scientific or development projects go to www.CommonSites.net or email us at info@commonsites.net.

Applying for grants or funding?

Contact us and we'll support your project proposal with a dissemination plan!

twitter.com/CommonSites

facebook.com/commonsites

Logo design

Web design

